Social and Personal

The wedding of Miss Jeanne Lovenslein to Mr. Nathan Coleman, of Savannah, Ga., was celebrated yesterday afternoon at half past four o'clock, in No. 508 North Fifth Street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Lovenslein, the parents of the bride.

The lower floor of the Lovenslein home was converted in white and beautifully decorated in palms and chrysanthemums and maidenhair ferns. The ceremony, which was witnessed only by the intimate friends and relatives of bride and groom, took place in the front drawing room, the Rev. Dr. Edward N. Cullen officiating. Mrs. L. C. Tucker was at the piano, and the bride's father came in as the notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march were struck.

The bride entered with her father, Mr. Isadore Lovenslein. She wore a lovely gown of ivory white panne crepe de chine, the skirt had a shirred waist, the shirring and inch wide tucks extending down to the train, which was formed of double ruffles of the crepe. The corsage had a transparent yoke of white tulle embroidered in pearls and finished with a bertha of exquisite lace. The upper part of the sleeve, very full, fell to the elbow over a close-fitting undersleeve of tulle, finished at the wrist with lace. The bride's veil was of tulle, held with a pearl crescent. A white prayer book, carried by the bride, was marked with lily-of-the-valley sprays, held with white gauze ribbon.

Miss May Brauer, the maid of honor, was attired in white point d'esprit over tulle, with green chiffon sash and a bouquet of maidenhair ferns, tied with green gauze.

Mr. Sidney Lovenslein, the bride's brother, was best man to the groom. After the ceremony an informal wedding reception was held from 4 to 7. Mrs. Isadore Lovenslein, the bride's mother, who received with her, wore a black chrysanthemum corsage over a white gown. Mrs. Joseph Rubin, of Philadelphia, the bride's aunt, was very handsome in an elegant imported evening gown of black lace with applied incrustations of white and ecru lace. Her ornaments were diamonds.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman left last evening for a Northern tour. At its conclusion they will make their home in Savannah, Ga., where Mr. Coleman is established in business. The young couple received many elegant and useful bridal gifts as an expression of good will and esteem on the part of their friends. Guests from a distance, who came to be present at the wedding, included Mrs. Joseph Rubin, of Philadelphia; Miss Minnie Kronenberg, of Philadelphia, Penn.; and Mr. Adolph Stern, of Norfolk, Va.

Williams—Bowis.

A very pretty wedding took place in Monumental Church yesterday at 7 P. M. The contracting parties being Miss Katherine Genevieve Bowis and Mr. Roy Hurlburt Williams, both of this city.

Promptly at four o'clock the bride entered, carrying a large bouquet of white roses and wearing a costume of tan-colored cloth and a picture hat. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. F. W. McCabe, who was her matron of honor. Mrs. McCabe was gowned in blue crepe de chine. Her flowers were a sheaf of white chrysanthemums. The groom and his best man, Mr. William A. Woodin, came in from the vestry room and both officiating. Mrs. L. C. Tucker was at the piano, and the bride's father came in as the notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march were struck.

Studio Tea.

The studio tea given last afternoon by Miss Maile Burnett and Miss Edie Aylett Cofer seemed all the more charming and enjoyable because it revived the atmosphere of last season, when these teas were among the social and artistic delights that every one looked forward to.

The studio parlors were decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. Misses Burnett and Cofer were assisted in the entertainment of their friends by Miss Emma Whitfield, who was abroad with them during last summer, and Miss Mary Carter Anderson, of the Woman's College, who presided charmingly.

Miss Cofer's lovely voice, heard in several selections, seemed, if possible, to have gained added depth and richness by reason of her study during the summer.

Miss Burnett's piano numbers were given with her accustomed delicacy of touch and purity of expression, to which was added a power of interpretation developed by recent progress and instruction. Mrs. Gwathmey was accompanied, nothing to be asked for and was a tribute to the vocal and instrumental masters of the two young hostesses.

Among the callers were Mrs. Thomas Edmund Stridwell, Edward Valentine, Archie Tuttle, Norton, Savage, Clement Shaffer, Platt, of Connecticut; Robert H. Fisher, Virgilus Hall, Allison Hodges, Doran Wingfield, Willie Nelson, Jeter Basher, Edwin Basher, D. S. McThomas, R. L. Powers, S. H. Haves, Ingram, Hutcherson, Arrington, Larus, Cunningham, Burton, Terhune, Lyons, Elyson Slaughter, Taylor, Habbison, Lyon, Cannon, Wallersbain and Chandler; Mrs. Moore, Rutherford, H. Hancock, Williams, Minor, Hubank, Ingram, Elyson and Lawson.

The lecture on "Mitrabendu" to be given under the direction of E. N. Callich at the Jefferson Club parlors this afternoon by Professor S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond College, will begin promptly at 4 o'clock.

The customary tea after the lecture will be omitted this afternoon to enable the audience to appear at the Academy in time to see Sothorn in "The Proud Prince."

Personal Mention.

Williams. The young couple both enjoy a wide acquaintance and unusual popularity in Richmond.

Double Wedding.

Miss Mollie Elizabeth Dowell, the daughter of Mr. Tazewell Dowell, of Albemarle county, and Mr. Lonnie R. Tyler, were married in Washington Tuesday, November 17th, by the Rev. S. H. Greene, the approaching wedding announcement having been made in The Times-Dispatch.

The bride and groom were accompanied to Washington by Miss Minnie E. Tyler, the daughter of Mr. Thomas R. Tyler, of "Allendale," Louisa county, and Mr. Roy B. Knighton, a prosperous merchant of the same section, who concluded to follow the example of their friends and relatives, and make a double, instead of a single nuptial affair, and by so doing, invested last Tuesday's ceremony with much romance and interest.

The two brides and their bridegrooms are now spending a few days sightseeing in Washington. Afterwards the quartet will make a western tour together and return, Mr. and Mrs. Knighton to their home in the Green Spring neighborhood of Louisa county, and Mr. and Mrs. Tyler to No. 512-2 North Twenty-seventh Street, this city.

Both couples have many friends in Richmond, where Mr. Tyler for a number of years, has been a valued employee of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

Miss Ethel Williams and Mr. Arthur A. Barnes were married Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. W. B. Mayo, Rev. Dr. Weston Bruner, of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating. A dance and wedding supper followed the ceremony.

Miss Marie Lumsden, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lumsden, and Mr. Clifford Alvin Lyle were married at No. 404 First Street, at 3:30 o'clock last night, the Rev. Dr. Weston Bruner performing the ceremony.

CASES AGAINST TAYLOR CONTINUED

Wesley Fountain Sent to Grand Jury—Shultz Case Goes Over.

Young Cleveland Taylor has lots of trouble coming his way. He is now awaiting the result of a grand jury investigation about an alleged forged check.

Justice John yesterday continued two additional charges against him to await the action of the grand jury. The charges are that he secured certain clothing from Busby's, and that he purloined the checks which he is alleged to have forged.

Wesley Fountain, colored, was sent on to the grand jury because he could not unambiguously adjust the difference existing between himself and Annie Brown concerning an alleged agreement to keep certain promises.

The case of H. E. Shultz was continued at the instance of Counsel Harry Glenn. He is charged with the embezzlement of $2 from J. H. Byrnes, but it thought a mistake may have occurred, as Shultz bears a good reputation.

Bill Jones couldn't explain away the fact that he had been drunk thirty days. Isaiah Hawkins, with haversack on his back, in strolling over the country, took to Richmond on a side trip. He said he was coming yesterday from the States and was allowed to continue on his journey.

John Bradley, and George Anthony, two other travelers, one from Kentucky, and the other from Petersburg, were permitted to join Hankins in his peregrinations.

And then Lucy Jones passed along, after depositing the fee of $5 for being drunk and disorderly.

Another Step Forward.

Dr. James Nelson, president of the Woman's College, has decided to relieve those students of the college of examination, intermediate and final, who make a certain high per cent. as monthly average. Hazel Kirk. Hazel Kirk will be presented this evening at Corcoran Hall for the benefit of the music fund of St. Patrick's Church. The play is one that has met with great success, as have also the actors, viz., Dan's Metropolitan Dramatic Club. A pleasant evening is assured all who attend.

CATES AND MULLEN WERE BOTH FINED

Must Pay the Commonwealth Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars Each for Libel.

In the Hustings Court yesterday W. H. Mullen and Sidney Cates were fined $250 each and costs on the charge of criminal libel.

The case grew out of the publication in the "Opinion," a paper run by the accused during the recent strike, of an affidavit alleging that C. B. Buchanan, superintendent of the Passenger and Freight Company, was traveling under an assumed name, and that his real name was "Martin." The case consumed but a little while and there were but few witnesses. When the jury brought in their verdict, Judge Witt gave the accused until November 28th in which to pay their fines.

The defense set up by Cates and Mullen, through their counsel, Mr. L. O. Wendenburg, was that the matter was printed in order to correct a wrong impression concerning Mr. Buchanan. Both went on the stand and swore to this effect. The witnesses for the prosecution were Mr. Buchanan and Rev. J. H. Witherspoon, the latter testifying that he knew the defendant since his boyhood, and that his name was "Buchanan."

The case was appealed from the Police Court, where the accused were fined $100 each.

The charge of Judge Witt to the jury was a clear and concise exposition of the law as to libel, and His Honor held that the publication of any affidavit not held by a court of justice was a libel, if it tended to the injury of a man, and such publication could not be considered as privileged matter.

Judge Richardson represented the Commonwealth, and asked for conviction.

ST. CHARLES DOOMED.

Site of Public House for One Hundred Years.

The old St. Charles Hotel, on the site of the Bell Tavern, of the early days of the city, will soon be torn down to be succeeded by a freight depot of the Seaboard Air Line Railway. The St. Charles once a fashionable hotel of the city, is now vacant and presents a cheerless and uninviting appearance.

Many notices are posted on it giving notice where former tenants may now be found. Window panes are gone and the chilling north winds howled about it dismally every evening.

The old structure was its last service as the Union Hotel, Edgar Allan, Jr., proprietor. When the Main-Street passenger depot was erected a part of the structure was torn down to make way for a carriage drive to the depot. It is the first-built edifice now standing.

After Game.

Sergeant George Epps, Officer Henry Thomas and Mr. John Bliley are off on a furlough, and expect to land lots of game down on the Chickahominy and Pamunkey.

They will return about Saturday.

A general opinion among the delegates that prices will be lower by the first of the year.

CADETS CALLED BACK TO DUTY

General Scott Shipp, Superintendent, Issues Letter to Parents and Guardians.

The Virginia Military Institute will resume exercises next Wednesday, November 25th, and General Shipp, superintendent, has issued a call for the cadets to return.

General Shipp addresses a letter to the parents and guardians of the cadets, setting forth reasons why their sons and wards may now return to the Institute without danger. The following is an excerpt from this communication:

The sanitary conditions at the Institute before and during the epidemic, and up to the present time, have been pronounced perfect by the experts of the State Board of Health and the United States Marine Hospital Service.

Washington and Lee University, whose students board in the families of the town of Lexington, has been in no case of fever amongst them since cadets left on October 25d. The same is true of the public schools of Lexington, with over three hundred pupils. The same is true of the Virginia Military Institute, with a real population, in absence of cadets, of forty-five or fifty.

In the town of Lexington there has been only one case of typhoid fever since October 23d—that was diagnosed on the last day of November. Dr. Rawley Martin, president of the Board of Health of the State of Virginia; Dr. Fairfax Irwin, in command of Public Health and Marine Hospital Service at Philadelphia; Dr. Parry and Anderson, sent here as experts from Marine Hospital Service at Washington; Dr. A. D. Estill, health officer of the town of Lexington, all testify that cadets may be called back with entire safety. Dr. Irwin, above-mentioned, has a son who will promptly return on November 24th, as will the son of Dr. John N. Uphur, a distinguished physician of the city of Richmond.

The water taken from a number of tanks on the Institute premises, and the milk used by cadets, have been analyzed by both State and United States experts, and found free from infection. The experts pronounce the water taken from the spring that supplies the ice factory, as well as the water taken from the tanks in the factory, which water was drawn from the spring in question, infected. One of this ice has been issued to cadets. This town of Lexington has received this spring to be closed. The experts also find a spring in the town about a quarter of a mile from the Institute, infected. This water is much used by cadets on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, when they are at liberty to go beyond the limits of the post. This spring will be closed at once. They also find the water at the public school-house more or less infected. Cadets have no access to this water. Although the ice from the condemned water works is used by cadets, they have used this ice.

All the cadets who had the fever are convalescent save one. He is believed to have passed the crisis and will recover.

A CHAMPIONSHIP GAME SATURDAY

Richmond and Randolph-Macon College Teams Are to Meet Here.

The game of foot-ball at the Broad Street Park next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock between the foot-ball eleven of the Richmond and Randolph-Macon Colleges is for the college championship of the State, and is sure to be a close and hard fought one, as always when these ancient rivals meet. Near neighbors, the two colleges are always in a warm, but friendly rivalry for athletic honors. It is a case of the Baptists against the Methodists, and is going to be a lively scrimmage from start to finish. On the merits of the play of the two teams there is little from which to choose between them in picking the winner. Comparison of scores shows that Randolph-Macon has made a better showing against some of the teams than has Richmond College against the same eleven, and vice versa. But whatever the Randolph-Macon team may have been in point of strength two weeks ago, it may be depended upon to play like a champion on Saturday.

Richmond College has made a better showing against some of the teams than has Richmond College against the same eleven, and vice versa. But whatever the Randolph-Macon team may have been in point of strength two weeks ago, it may be depended upon to play like a champion on Saturday. Richmond suffered a severe handicap last Saturday in the injury of Spilman, one of its best ground gaining backs and a brilliant player, but it still has two of the best in the State in Lankford and Smith. Both these players, and many others, would make a wide reputation with a very strong team to support them, like the
